Information security services

Your expectations of our management, employees, and service providers in regard to ensuring information and data security is of utmost importance to us. That's why our regulated print program is holistic about the protection of information and risk management. We factor in your existing data security policy and implement a strategy based on your needs.

How it works

Customized Security

We meet with you to determine a security program specific to your organization. We have our own security procedures in place, but are able to customize and add to those procedures based on your requirements.

Physical Security

Your sensitive print projects are produced in one of our secure print facilities. Management, employee and vendor access is restricted and monitored closely.

Monitored Effectiveness

The effectiveness of our security program is monitored to ensure we are meeting your needs. We also put in place safeguards to prevent the loss of sensitive data and alert on malicious or suspicious activities as they pertain to sensitive data.

Secure Delivery

All of our co-workers help to maintain a secure network and infrastructure, including the delivery and shipment of your projects. In addition to our local delivery service, we can provide secure shipments through FedEx or UPS.
